

12. Designated Premises Supervisor (DPS)

- 12.1 The sale and supply of alcohol, because of its impact on the wider community and on crime and anti-social behaviour, carries with it greater responsibility than that associated with the provision of regulated entertainment and late night refreshment. Because of this the Licensing Authority will normally expect that the DPS for a licensed premise will be able to demonstrate that they are in day to day control of the premises and playing an active role in its operation through a regular personal presence.
- 12.2 The main purpose of the Designated Premises Supervisor is to ensure that there is always one specified individual, among the personal licence holders at the premises, who can be readily identified for the premises where the sale of alcohol is permitted. The premises licence holder will normally have given that person day-to-day responsibility for running the premises. In view of this the Licensing Authority expects an applicant for a premises licence to confirm in his operating schedule, that the Designated Premises Supervisor will regularly attend the premises and be in day-to-day charge of them.

This Licensing Authority recommends that the DPS undergoes relevant training, such as the Designated Premises Supervisor course provided by the British Institute of Innkeeping Awarding Body, in order that they are made aware of the responsibilities this position brings with it.
